Subject: RE: Lunch today? (Monday, March 15)

As we tell all of "them" the only thing that cannot be discussed is "the case, or any of the people or any subject involved in the case." So while it behooves us to be responsible and even to error on the side of caution, other subjects such as the process fall outside the admonishment but more importantly fall outside to scope of common sense.

Leave it to you guys to kill my dream of having come full circle. I suspect the path suggested by [REDACTED] will take me into my retirement years. But here I am livin' the dream, jury duty with Mugridge and Jenkins!

Does anyone have the "top ten reasons that you know you have been on a jury to long when:"
If so call/write my clerk [REDACTED] and she will get it to me. My friends want a copy.
